

Providing expertise in membership relations, financial and data retention, Estella A. Lazenby works directly with National Black Nurses Association (NBNA) as the Membership Services Manager. She assists Chapter(s) Presidents and NBNA Membership Coordinators, as well as individual NBNA members through daily communications and documentation which serve to further the goals and objectives of the NBNA.

Prior to joining the NBNA, Mrs. Lazenby received her Certified Meeting Professional (CMP) certificate, and, coupled with studies at Strayer College and The University of the District of Columbia (UDC), created a woman owned business consulting firm (Lazenby and Associates Inc. (LAI), providing services to health organizations in the DMV such as the National Center for Biotechnology Information (NCBI), National Institutes of Health (NIH), and the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC).

Outside of providing a high level of membership expertise to the NBNA Mrs. Lazenby has devoted numerous hours to helping with programs of the Washington Humane Society and of the St. Stephen and Incarnation Episcopal Church. Working as a consultant for BLB Enterprises, Inc., of Washington, DC, Mrs. Lazenby created the art for the history game 'Black Quest – An Educational Game on Black America', and was awarded an Honorable Mention award for the design by the World Institute of Black Communications, Inc.

The past business expertise coupled with that of the current NBNA membership position, make Mrs. Lazenby an asset of the NBNA.
